CROWLE is a small market town and civil parish, pleasantly situated in the Isle of Axholme and partly in the West Riding of Yorkshire, near the Stainforth and Keadby canal, with a station on a branch from Doncaster to Grimsby of the Great Central railway, and another (Crowle Town station) on the Axholme Joint Railway. The town is 6½ miles north from Epworth, 13 south from Goole, 17 north-east from Doncaster, 17 north from Gainsborough and 165 (171 by rail) from London, in the West Lindsey division of the county, west division of the wapentake of Manley, petty sessional division of Epworth, union and county court district of Thorne, parts of Lindsey, rural deanery of Axholme, archdeaconry of Stow and diocese of Lincoln.

The town was governed by a Local Board from Aug. 11, 1865, until, under the provisions of the "Local Government Act, 1894" (56 and 57 Vict. c. 73), an Urban District Council was established; the town is lighted with gas and paved. The church of St. Oswald is a building of stone, the older portions being Norman, and consists of chancel, clerestoried nave of four bays, north aisle, south porch and an embattled western tower, with pinnacles, containing 3 bells and a clock: historic evidences prove the early existence here of a church dedicated to St. Oswald, the Christian King of Northumbria, slain 5th August, 642, although probably only a wooden structure: the shaft of a Bunic cross of stone, carved with interlaced ornament, and some figures, including a man on horseback, was used by the Norman masons as a lintel and is over the tower arch: in 1868 the remains of an inscription were discovered: the south wall, of ashlar in small cubes, remains, with the inner jamb of one of the narrow Norman windows: the south doorway is of three orders, much enriched, and some stones of another door with zigzag moulding were found in the walling on the north side: the chancel, rebuilt about 1850, is said to be upon the old foundation, and inclines towards the north; the old porch of 1628 has been replaced by a fine new porch of stone: there is a carved oak almsbox dated 1683, and the communion plate includes a chalice dated 1663: the church was restored in 1884, at a cost of £1,500, under the direction of Mr. A. S. Ellis, architect, of Westminster: there are 400 sittings. The register, including Eastoft, dates from the year 1561. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £635, arising from 500 acres of glebe, with residence, in the gift of the Rev. F. G. H. H. E. White M.A. vicar of Tovil, Kent, and held since 1908 by the Rev. William Frederick Armstrong B.A. of St. Mary Hall, Oxford, who is also rural dean of the Isle of Axholme. The Catholic church, dedicated to the Blessed Sacrament and St. Norbert, was erected in 1872, and is an edifice of brick in the Early English style, from the designs of Mr. A. M. Hadfield, architect, of Sheffield, attached to a monastery of Præmonstratensians, or White Canons, following the rule of their founder, St. Norbert, Archbishop of Magdeburgh, 1120: there is also a school, and the buildings generally occupy a site of about two acres; the Very Rev. Matthew W. Smith C.R.P. is prior. Here is a Congregational chapel, founded in 1760, with 150 sittings; a Baptist chapel, founded in 1599, seating 150 persons; and Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels. The Cemetery, opened in 1863, covers about two acres of ground, and has two mortuary chapels; it is under the control of a Burial Board of nine members. The Market Hall was erected in 1870 by a limited company, with a capital of £1,450, in £5 shares. There is also an Assembly Room. The market for stock is held every Monday fortnight during the months of March, April and May; there are also two annual fairs for cattle, held on the last Monday in May, and on the 23rd of November; and a statute for the hiring of farm labourers and domestic servants is held on the second Saturday in November. The principal landowners are Earl Manvers, who is lord of the manor, the trustees of the late Thomas Harsley Carnochan esq. the trustees of the late Samuel Cornelius Brunyee esq. of Sand Hall, James Hemingbrough esq. J.P. and the Vicar. The soil is warp and silt; subsoil, peat and sand. The chief crops are wheat, oats, beans and potatoes. The area of the civil parish and Urban District is 6,874 acres of land and 52 of water; rateable value, £15,333; population in 1911, 2,853.

EALAND is a hamlet 1 mile south-east.
